M. FIFE'S Patent Oblique Gold Pen—The excellence of a well-made Quill Pen Is acknowledged by all, but owe are aware that the cause is that it bends laterally at the point, in making strong shades, and occomes an Oblique I'en.

Teachers of penmanship always direct the pupil to hold the pen so that the top will point over the right shoulder, for by so doing the split and shades are brought more in a llue; but still, "when held well," there is from 16 to 35 degrees difference between the split of the pen and the downward marks. W. Flie's Oblique Pen obtates this difficulty. It curves or deflects from 16 to 35 degrees to the light at the point where it comes in contact with the paper, and it is as perfect au instrument for sloped writing as the straight pen is for back hand. Report of the Judges of the Frank Lin Institute Exhibition, 1850.

(After speaking well of other Pens.)

"Gold Pens by W. Fife.—These Pens, for streugth, smoothness, and delicacy of point, approach more nearly to the Quill Pen, and are the best in the Exhibition." CINCINNATI, Jan. 16, 1849. Dear Sir:-I take great pleasure in recommending to he public a most efficacious remedy for the cure of Pu nonary Affections, Dr. Hall's BALSAM FOR THE UNGS. I do not profess to understand the treatment of Consumption in all its different stages, and in all the phases that it assumes before it consigns its victims to ing to the fashion set by the whole country, or the grave; but of one thing I am assured-that if I had act made use of this invaluable remedy, I should myself have fallen a victim to its unyielding grasp. It is generally conceded that this disease is less understood, and more difficult to treat, than almost any other. It is also admitted, that it should be first attended to in the first stages. Any one who can discover a remedy that will heck it in its first symptoms, is entitled to the gratitude of his fellow-men: I believe that Dr. W. Hall has dis-overed a remedy. During the months of January and February last, my lungs became so much affected as to cause great uneasiness at every breath I drew. My bough, my expectoation, and the violent pains in my side, Indicated that the disease WAS SEATED ON MY LUNGS. At this time I commenced using Dr. Hall's Balssm for the Lungs, which gave me IMMEDIATE RELIEF, and Ornamental Evergreens, Shrubs, ONE BOTTLE restored me to health. I am satisfied that if I had not used this valuable medicine, I should not have survived the winter! And I am confident that the most violent attacks of Consumption, treated in time with this prescription, might be cured!

[For the Louisville Democrat.] To the People of Henry County, Kentucky, There is a proposition that you will have to decide of he third Monday in March, 1852-whether you will be taxed $150,000 or not, for the purpose of making the pro posed Covington and Louisville raliroad. Taxatlon has need the downfall of many governments, and it has nev er built up oue in the recollection of the present genera ion. It becomes the people, at all times, to be very autious about the principles of taxation, for fear the few interested may, or might take from the many, that know Prossiter's painting will not be here until or care but little about their individual interest. The large rivers are made from the many springs and small ivers and creeks which flow from the mountains. And large fortunes are sometimes made by a very small per entage from the many, (or the whole people,) to the ingle person, or the few. And it might be so in the present case. Who would care about being a stockhold er in this railroad, as proposed by the 13th section, in proportion to the amount that he (the individual) shall The whigs of Missouri hold a convention or may pay? If a persou pays fifty cents or over, he is a tockholder to that amount, or any other amount. Well then, the individual must lay out of the use of his noney that he pays, or sell or sacrifice it to any person that will huy the same of him. Well, this might suit the rich people, or the speculator; but I tell you, and he not istaken, that it will never suit the poor and working people of the country. It is, or at least it should be the great object of the working and poor classes of the people to live as free from taxation as the circumstances of th case will admit of, and control and manage their own domestic concerns to their own way. All such argument might appear simple to some people, but it is good octrine to the working people; most especially when debts are to be paid. The mention of the old proverh here seems appropriate; that

"Large boots may venture more, But little hoats should keep near shore." The proposed plan of taxation is a branch or sprig of the grand scheme of internal improvements by the general government. The general government goes in for Capt. Threshley's new steamer, the Odd river and harbor hills. The States for canals, slack. ounties for thirty year bonds, (as the present case.) It wholesale by the general government, and retail by Scott's beautiful Panorama of Kossuth's the States and counties. It will be direct taxation for

To put the ball in motion, as proposed by the presen plan of taxation, and carry it out, would be certain to runnihe people of many of the counties of this State. The present tax is nineteen cents on the hundred dellars. Weil, say that the county of Henry, or any other county make a railroad running from east to west through the county, and to do this the tax is raised (or voted) to 21 ents more, making a total of 40 ceuts; then suppose the same county make a railroad (or vote to help to make, as in the present case) from north to south, or any other direction, as the road may run; then say the people of the same county vote a tax on themselves, say 20 ceuts new ones are announced through our columns on the hundred dollars, and 40 cents, as stated before, makes 60 cents on the hundred dollars, as a grand total. A. Soyes, at the upper city scales, is just siroads as badly wanted, and just as essential as the in receipt of a large lot of Pomeroy coal. Those road or roads that have been made, and the people of the who have been awaiting its arrival, can now be same county want them and vote themselves to be taxed, asthey have dong in the first or second case, is it no pialn to be seen, to any reasonable man, that there would Candidates names for the April election | be no end to taxation / I cannot believe that the people If the stock in the proposed rallroad can be made appear hat it will yield a good profit or dividend, (as I have no doubt it will,) it will all be taken by capitalists or individaleuterprise, the only just and liberal mode of making railroads among a free and enlightened people. Justine returned, so pale, yet serene, that but for what I had heard, I should have imputed her sweet gravity to a natural sedateness alone. But for Henri the board was spread in vain. He started

"You will not leave us to-night?" said the widow.

"I have, not seen my parents! Farewell, mother,—farewell, dear Justine!" She turned not away from his offered salute; she even pressed his hand; but it was a sisterly pressure only, in which no warmer feeling had place. I saw by his countenance that he was aware of this, and that it added wings to the speed with which he left the cottage.

My repast ended, I retired to a small but exquisitely neat chamber on the ground floor of the cottage, the window of which looked towards the river. But sleep, like a false friend, fled at my greatest need!

My mind, excited by the unmerited mission fortune of one whom I had seen but to admire, held me as though spell-bound to the lattice, the view from whence of the beautiful valley sleeping in the pale moonlight, was far more attractive than a stantile by hearing the door of the sattractive than a startled by hearing the door of the suberge gently opened and some one issue forth. I looked anxiously from the casement; it was Justine herself, gliding like a spirit towards that stream on which lad been gazing. Good Heaven! what is not substituted that the story of her undeserved abandon ment had wrought in her fevered brain a vision of self-destruction? The thought was horrible! Without a moment's hesistion of the month of the patients without a moment's hesistion of self-destruction? The thought was horrible! Without a moment's hesistion of the patients without a moment's hesistion of self-destruction? The thought was horrible! Without a moment's hesistion of the patients without a station, I sprang through the window, and holding my course in shadow, tracked.

The situation, the hour, her look of deep The situation, the hour, her look of deep abstraction as meditating, perchance, on the fatal plunge—appeared to strengthen my fearful conjecture, and I advanced unperceived so near as to stretch forth my perceived so near as to stretch forth my arm, in the intensity of my feelings, to arrest her seeming purpose. But how had my suspicions wronged this nobleminded, this incomparable girl! At that moment when my heart fluttered at every moment when my heart fluttered at every motion, I beheld her sink upon her knees and clasping her white hands in an attitude of supplication, lift her sweet eyes to Heaven as if to invoke a blessing on that union which had marred her fairest hopes.

HEA. J. VANDERSLICE.

PHILADELPHIA, May 17,1849.

THIS is to certify that i have long been afflicted with the Dropsy, from which I have suffered much bodily as well as mental pain. I have tried many remedles with scarce any benefit, and applied to several eminem physicians, who promised a speedy cure; but, unfortunately, their promises were never recaized. I was luduced to try Dr. A. J. VANDERSLICE. I saw her lips move, and though the accents reached me not, the intelligence, the expression of that angel countenance could not be mistaken. It was a study for persed the lovely vision. With the swift- street. ness of a lapwing, Justine fled back to the house, while I, more cautious in my speed regained my apartment by the window, unperceived. It was the poor widow, who awaking and missing her daughter, had raised that wild cry of dread, almost of despair. A few words from Justine seem-in a very shorttime.

i have been cured of a very bad breast, and a consumption which was carrying me off very last. I applied to Dr. A. J. Vanderslice, of Philadelphia, who cured me in a very shorttime. ed to tranquilize the feelings of the agonized mother. They mingled their tears awhile, and then, I will hope, slept; if not, their grief at least was silent.

I rose early in the morning, but Justine had been long up and busied in her domestic affairs, serene and tranquil as though not a breeze had ruffled the calm current of her peaceful mind. To have attempted counsel or consolation, would have been to insult the feelings of one whose own heart was her best and surest monitor .-After partaking, therefore, of a breakfast, autumn to retrace part of my former route; and an unabated interest in the fortunes of Justine, attracted my steps once more to the little aubergo, which through every after-scene, had still been present to my memory. I was received with the gratesimple-minded people, to repay my expression of attachment on the part of a stranger. Justine was still pale, but the recovered cheerfulness and stranger. recovered cheerfulness and animation of recovered cheerfulness and animation of the old woman seemed to indicate reviving hope and expectation. Had I doubted this, it been soon been confirmed.

It was evening when I arrived, and I was yet conversing with Justine, when my old friend Henri entered the cottage. All that is Needed!

From M. BEASLEY, Enq., Concordia, Tenn. After partaking, therefore, of a breakfast, the grapes for which I found had cost Justine a long ramble, I departed on my way, well content to leave her to the guidance of her own purity, and the protecting love of one of the most affectionate of parents.

Circumstances led me at the close of autumn to retrace part of my former route:

Hero M. BEASLEY, Eaq., Concerdia, Tenn.

BESSES, B. A., FAHNESTOCK & CO.—Gents: Lesses, and the control of contro Cases of sickness of children, the use of the Vermifuge will be all that Is needed. It has saved many lives in this part of the country, and we think we could not do without it. In my son's family, where there are several children, your Vermifuge is almost the only remedy they ever have occasion to use for the various all ments that little ones are aubject to. There is no remedy more generally known or more highly esteemed in west Tenessee than your Vermifuge, and it gives me pleasure to offer this testimony to its excellence.

Messes. Raymond & Patter.—Gentlemen: I have beed using Mitchell'a Indian Rheumatic Extract, with more benefit to myself than any of all the remedies I have ever made trial of in the course of forty years, durinff which time I have labored under Rheumatism. I am now relieved of all pain, and of the many cases in this city of a rheumatic character, I am sure that there has not been one of failure, where the medicine has been properly applied.

With great pleasure and unbounded confidence in the use of the above named Extract, I voluntarily send you thus certificate for publication. EXHIBITION EXTRAORDINARY e of the above named Extract, I voluntarily send you sertificate for publication.
